EDUCATION FOR ALL,
FROM THE RAYS OF KNOWLEDGE
WE CARVE
HOPE

Description

The “Education for All: From the Rays of Knowledge We Carve Hope” initiative responds to the education crisis affecting about one million students globally, including approximately 88,000 in the Gaza Strip unable to attend university for over six months due to military conflicts. This digital university model offers online and in-person education, providing free e-learning facilitated through platforms like Zoom, recorded lectures for accessibility, and integrated digital assessments.

The program has registered over 3,100 students across 300 courses at Palestine Ahliya University, ensuring educational continuity and academic excellence despite challenges such as internet and power disruptions. The initiative uses electronic Internet chips and a flexible exam system to overcome technological barriers.

Focusing on sustainability, the initiative aligns with the Sustainable Development Goal to provide inclusive and equitable quality education. It plans to upgrade its technology for future resilience and expand its capacity to reintegrate students who affected by conflicts, promoting universal education accessibility.
